MANY BUSINESS MEN ARE COOPERATING

Stores Forego Their Margin of Profit On Many Articles

The first monthly trade's days under the auspices of the merchants of Albany will be held Saturday, May 6. Advertisements of merchants co-operating in the big event are published in today's issue of The Albany-Decatur Daily. The advertisements have been checked and are guaranteed to offer real value by the committee of merchants in charge of the trades days for the first three months.

The trades day movement grew out of the visit here recently of Pryor Irwin and details were arranged by progressive business men who saw in the plan an opportunity to render real service to their patrons and to extend Albany's trade territory at the same time.

Twenty-seven merchants signed the contract to remain in the trades day movement for a period of one year. The events will be staged each month on the first Saturday of that particular month.

The special prices offered are at little or no margin of profit in many instances. The prices are for cash. Everybody Invited

Trades day have been very successful in other sections in extending the trades territory of the communities holding them. The merchants here believe that much good will result from their inauguration in Albany.

Everyone is invited to take advantage of the bargains offered. Visitors are expected from all sections of North Alabama. One of the particular advantages of trades day is the fact that while out-of-town visitors might not care to go to the trouble necessary for a visit here on some particular date to buy the bargains offered by only one merchant, the visitors will find it to his or her advantage to come here to purchase the bargains offered by practically every merchant.

Large placards have been printed and distributed among the merchants co-operating in the movement. These placards will be displayed prominently in the windows of those stores participating.

Big Day Expected
With nearly every business house bending all efforts toward breaking sales records Saturday, the biggest retail business day in Albany's history is expected Saturday.

Reports received here today by chamber of commerce leaders declared that much interest has been taken in the trade days program in many points in this section. Out-of-town shoppers in large numbers are planning to come here to reap their share of the bargain festivals.

Many stores are offering exceptionally attractive prices on many articles for trades day shopping and a dollar will have unusual value here Saturday.

RADIO PLANNED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 4. — Special—The university of Alabama will install at once a radio broadcasting station with a transmission radius covering the entire state and will provide a system for the transmission at regular intervals of addresses, lectures and information.

Neither General, Private, Local
Nor Special Yet It's Law Just
The Same Judge Mayfield Says

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 4. — All efforts of the wise men in the last constitutional convention of Alabama to prevent the passage of measure not applying to the entire state without their being advertised have failed. Judge James J. Mayfield, code commissioner and special assistant attorney-general, has found a law enacted in 1919 which is neither a general law nor a private, special or local law yet nothing can be found to indicate that any provision of the constitution has been violated.

The act prohibits the use of seines, nets and such devices in fishing in Choctawhatchie river or waters which empty into this river. It was introduced by Representative T. S. Faulk. It is not a general law because it does not apply to the entire state, but it is not a private, special or local law under the definition of such laws as made by the constitution. Therefore, it is valid, according to the opinion of Judge Mayfield because the legislature has the inherent right to make laws unless it is restricted by some provision of the constitution.

I. T. Quinn, state commissioner of conservation, referred the subject to the attorney-general's department after a judge in one of the counties involved had held it to be invalid.

ALLIES MUST PAY
FOR U. S. TROOPS
ON THE RHINELAND

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—If the allied governments want American troops kept indefinitely on the Rhine, they must make some adequate provision for paying the cost of their maintenance, it was made clear today in official quarters.

For the time being a part of the eighth infantry will remain in Europe, but it was learned officially today that they will not be maintained indefinitely unless the European governments interested in having them stay there, adopt some method of meeting the American bill of cost.

Every government concerned, including Germany herself, has requested the United States not to withdraw entirely from the Rhine area. Germany desires the American troops to remain in the belief that their presence will act as a deterrent to any summary action by France in the direction of the Ruhr valley.

Great Britain and Italy both desire the Yankees to stay on the Rhine, believing the American troops will be a moderating influence.

LIQUOR WAR IS ON
ROME, GA., VICINITY

(International News Service.)

ROME, Ga., May 4. — War to the finish against moonshiners in Northwest Georgia was declared today by federal authorities who have assembled at Rome to round up a gang that attacked officers T. M. Goding and A. J. Spence Monday night in a mountain gorge of Gordon County.

Five men, two of them wounded, are in the county jail as a result of the work of the officers. More arrests are expected this week. Officer Spence, who was wounded Monday night, is recovering.

ALLIED STATEMENT OF CONDITIONS NOW
IS UNDER SCRUTINY

(International News Service.)

GENOA, May 4. — The Allied statement of conditions for recognition of the Moscov Soviet government was under scrutiny by the Russian delegation to the economic conference today, but it is unlikely that an answer will be given until the end of the week.

It is understood that the Russians are dissatisfied with the statement and will ask for a revision. It is now fairly certain that France will continue her participation in the conference, although that nation and Belgium refused to sign the Russian statement.

The split over the Russian issue has thrown the line up of the powers in bold relief. France and Belgium are uncompromisingly hostile to Russia. England and Italy are taking a conciliatory middle course, with a trend of sympathy for purely business reasons, toward Russia.

Germany is frankly friendly to Russia. Japan has remained passive, although she may join with France and Belgium if she feels that her interests in Siberia are going to be menaced.

Howell Is Taken
Suddenly Ill

News reached Hartselle late Wednesday evening of the serious illness of J. R. (Bob) Howell. Mr. Howell was on a business trip to Mt. Hope and other towns in that territory. On his return trip he was taken violently ill when near Tusculum. Dr. Whitman was called in, and it was found that he was suffering from a severe case of appendicitis. He was immediately carried to the hospital at Sheffield where he was operated on. A ruptured appendix was found. Latest advices today are to the effect that he has a good chance to recover. Mr. Howell lives at Hartselle and conducts a business at Falkville. Mrs. Howell left at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening for his bedside.

Morgan Berry Is Record Breaker

That Morgan County strawberries are record breakers was evidenced by a berry bought to The Daily office today by Fred Hutchins. The berry was grown by him in West Albany and was of the Kellogg Premier variety. It was 7 7/8 inches in circumference, 3 inches in diameter and weighed two ounces.

NEW ORLEANS WOMAN IS MOTHER OF TWENTY-ONE

Mrs. Jacob Caranek, "champion mother" of New Orleans, La., holds the marvelous record of giving birth to twenty-one children, in twenty-one years. In a little grocery store at No. 1700 Port street, New Orleans, she toils from 6 o'clock in the morning until late at night. Aside from occasional headaches, Mrs. Caranek has never been ill, she says. Ten of her children are living.

SWEEPING CHANGES
BEFORE COMMISSION FOR DISCUSSION

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Abolition of the marine corps, creation of a new cabinet portfolio, transfer of the prohibition bureau to the department of justice, are a few of the sweeping proposals that will be discussed at a conference in the white house tonight between President Harding and the joint congressional reorganization commission.

Almost every proposal, heretofore, made by the commission has raised a hue and cry in the quarter which would be affected by the proposed change.

In a good many instances these proposed changes involve the transfer of departments under the jurisdiction of one cabinet officer to that of another cabinet official. For several months the President has been engaged in "soothing" and "smoothing" the ruffled feelings of cabinet and other government officers, whose departments were to be sliced by the reorganization knife.

The proposal to abolish the United States marine corps as a surplus branch of the army and navy gave rise to a violent storm of protest. The proposal to whittle the prohibition bureau from the treasury department of justice has met with similar criticism.

Creation of a department of public welfare with a cabinet portfolio is another problem which will be discussed at the white house conference. It is proposed to bring under this branch all educational, public health, child labor, veterans care and compensation and similar departments now sprinkled through the various executive departments.

Whitt Seay Gets
Second Hearing

F. Whitt Seay, convicted of murder in Lauderdale County and sentenced to death after a sensational trial last year, was granted a new trial by the supreme court today, according to a telegraphic dispatch from The Daily's Montgomery Bureau this afternoon.

The court held that Seay did not receive a fair and impartial trial and that the mob spirit was permitted to show itself during the trial. The opinion was prepared by Chief Justice Anderson and was concurred in by all members of the court. Seay was brought here for confinement, following his arrest at Florence. He was charged with the brutal slaying of his young wife. The case attracted wide attention throughout the South. W. W. Callahan was chief counsel for the defense.

Political Washington is Astounded At Action Of The Indiana Voters

REGULAR REPUBLICANS HAVE SEVERE JOLT

G. O. P. Leaders Generally Remain Silent As Democrats Shout Joyously

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 4.—Recovering somewhat from the acute shocks from the Indiana primary, political Washington set about today to find the reason underlying the defeat suffered by the Republican organization, both state and national at the hands of Alfred J. Beveridge, who, as a progressive for the past ten years, has been an open enemy of organized Republicanism.

The Beveridge victory over Senator Harry S. New, an acknowledged administration spokesman, has jarred the regular Republican organization in Washington severely.

Republican leaders in the senate and the administration generally had expected New to come home easily, and the sadness of the shock left them gasping.

The Democrats, of course, were jubilant today. To the Democrats the Beveridge victory spelled "a repudiation of the administration" and presages Democratic successes in November. "The defeat of Senator New is a defeat for the Harding administration; it can be interpreted in no other way," declared Cordell Hull, chairman of the national Democratic committee.

The Republicans, for the most part, remained silent today contenting themselves with pointing out that Senator Beveridge "is a Republican and made his primary campaign on a strictly Republican platform, pledging himself to support the national administration."

Mayor Hylan Has
Narrow Escape

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, May 4.—Mayor John F. Hylan had a narrow escape from serious injury today when a street car crashed into his automobile at Bushwick avenue and Siegel street, Brooklyn. The mayor was showered with flying glass and the first report telephoned to the police said that the mayor had been slightly hurt. Mr. Hylan continued on his way to his office where he received numerous congratulations of city employees over his escape.

SPEAKERS OUTLINE
COOPERATION NEED
IN POSTAL SERVICE

The campaign for "Postal Improvement" week was begun Wednesday morning by the local officials, the first meeting being held with the pupils of Albany High school. At this place Postmaster L. E. Huie addressed the school, going into every phase of the postal service in a plain and comprehensive way, calling attention of the patrons of the office, to the part they were to perform in helping to make the service of the very best.

At the same hour, Rural Carrier S. R. Garrison addressed the pupils of West Albany school.

Today the campaign continued with meetings held at Gordon School, Albany, South Albany school, and East Albany school. At Gordon and South Albany, postmaster L. E. Huie will address the schools. Carrier S. R. Garrison addressed the pupils of East Albany school. The campaign will close with the visit to Austinville Friday.

Postmaster Huie feels that the campaign has accomplished much already. In many instances it is only necessary to call the attention of those who have business at the office with some of the simple rules to the following, thereby, rendering the department more efficient, at the same time this spirit of co-operation helps those who co-operate as well, because it insures delivery with the least possible delay.

Almon Speaks
For Roads Act

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The road bill making provision for National Aid appropriations for the next two years, beginning July 1, 1922, passed the House under suspension of the rules by a vote of 239 to 31, providing sixty-five million for the first year and seventy-five million for the second year.

Representative Almon of Alabama, member of the Committee on Roads, in the course of his speech in favor of National Aid to Roads called attention to what had been accomplished since the first appropriation in 1916 in the various states. He cited the amount that would go to the State of Alabama from this bill and the amounts already available, as follows:

Federal funds already available for new construction in Alabama, April 1, 1922, $3,976,672.00
Alabama's part of the amount authorized in this bill, $2,896,715.00

This will make available for road construction in Alabama, $6,873,387, Federal funds, between now and July 1, 1924, which does not include the amounts under contract and not expended. When this amount is matched by the state it will amount to $13,746,774.

TWO HEARINGS ARE BEING HELD DAILY;
WORTHINGTON HAS A WORD FOR FORD

Declares Entire Country Would Be Benefited By Ford Offer

AMMONIA AT 5 CENTS PER POUND IS OBJECT

Points Out Saving Which Would Have Accrued During The War

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, May 4.—A determined effort to have congress reach a decision at this session on the leasing of Muscle Shoals to private interests was launched today by the senate agriculture committee.

Two hearings a day in consideration of rival offers, morning and afternoon, will be held by the committee hereafter, it was announced by Chairman Norris, Republican, of Nebraska.

The committee, he added, hoped to reach a decision before the end of May. Representation of Henry Ford's offer was continued today by J. W. Worthington, president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association.

Worthington, who first interested Ford in the project, declared the entire country would be benefited by acceptance of Ford's offer. Worthington declared Ford's purpose in acquiring Muscle Shoals would be to manufacture ammonia to sell at five cents a pound, Worthington said. "The importance of five cents ammonia to American agriculture cannot be over-estimated. Its savings will reach into millions of dollars. If this country had been able to produce five cent ammonia during the war, the saving affected would have totaled $268,600,000."

"The cost to America for ammonia from 1914 to 1922 was $371,000,000, obtained chiefly from Chile, so the saving can readily be appreciated."

Worthington further discussed technical questions involved in the leasing of the project.

New Angle Seen
In Libel Case

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 4. — The court of appeals late today issued a rule nisi directing Judge J. J. Curtis of the fourteenth judicial circuit to appear before the court and show why he should not be required to vacate an order dismissing from custody C. R. Walker, editor of a newspaper at Carbon Hill, Walker county, who is accused of criminal libel.

Charges of libel were preferred against Walker by O. C. Maner of Montgomery, who alleged that an article regarding Mrs. Maner, who is a candidate for representative of Montgomery county, was libelous. The warrant was sworn out in Montgomery county, but Walker refused to answer, contending that he is a citizen of Walker county and his newspaper is published in Walker county. Information in Montgomery indicated that Judge Curtis is either has or is about to issue a writ of habeas corpus dismissing Walker. Maner filed the application for the rule nisi in order to prevent Judge Curtis from dismissing the case.

Maner contends that since Walker's paper circulated in Montgomery county he can be brought to this county for trial. The article regarding Mrs. Maner was written just after Mrs. Maner visited Muscle Shoals and Gorgas at the time of the investigation by members of congress.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

THINGS CANNOT BE ALLOWED TO TAKE THEIR "NORMAL" COURSE.

It was apparently the intention of Harding and his advisers, to do as near absolutely nothing at Washington, as it is humanly possible. J. G. Cannon, noted Republican standpatter, expressed the attitude of Congress when in a burst of frankness—and near cynicism he said, speaking of congress: "There are a lot of things we could do, but we won't. Everything the administration has attempted has been forced upon it. It was forced to take action for the relief of the farmers, when it was found that bankruptcy awaited most of the cotton farmers unless funds were made available, and government got busy and put the war financing legislation enacted by Democrats, into effect in such a way as to furnish plenty of money for the farmers. Mark Sullivan, the noted political writer, states in yesterday's press dispatches, that a crisis faces this country and the world, as regards financial conditions in Europe as they are related to this nation's business. Sullivan says that the problem is the same in kind as the one presented by the farmers a few months ago. He declares that about a year ago business conditions in this country reached the lowest ebb, and that if the original intention of Harding to let "normalcy" return of its own free will and accord, we would have gone from bad to worse. The European situation is admittedly more complicated than were domestic business conditions a year ago, but Sullivan declares that practically the same cure should be applied to world financial conditions, as Secretary Mellon and his associates applied to the deplorable plight of the farmers. It is pointed out that the Senate expected to interpose objections to the federal government taking any official part in putting the world on its feet in a financial way, just as it has opposed all moves for political cooperation. But according to Mr. Sullivan necessity knows no laws not even those of United States Senators, and that the financial powers will find some way to re-establish European credit and European trade relations. Those who favor this government taking a hand as a government, say that just as Mr. Hughes reduced Naval Armaments by offering concrete proposals to the rest of the great powers, so should Hughes or Mellon in behalf of our government offer definite relief to international trade. But this step cannot be taken, it is pointed out unless the Senate rescinds its recent resolution, forbidding the executive department to seat men on any of the International committees, without the approval and consent of the Senate. But whatever the difficulties, in some way America must and will co-operate in an international way.

FORMER SENATOR BEVERIDGE DEFEATS SENATOR NEW.

The decisive victory of Albert J. Beveridge over Senator Harry S. New in the Indiana primaries is declared by Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee, to be "a plain and emphatic repudiation of the Harding administration and Senator New's part therein by the republicans of Indiana."

Even if we discount Mr. Hull's commendable desire, from a democratic point of view, to make all the capital he can out of the defeat of Senator New, the result is somewhat surprising and cannot fail to cause regret in the White House. Just how far the nomination of Beveridge is a repudiation of Mr. Harding's policies it is difficult to say. Senator New has long been one of the President's closest friends, and it is known that he wanted the senator renominated. The two men are much alike in their habits of thought and have been intimates for years. Senator New expected that his renomination would be an indorsement of the Harding administration.

On the other hand, Mr. Beveridge is an aggressive man, who is no novice in politics. When he represented Indiana, in the United States Senate he was regarded as one of the ablest men in public life and suitable presidential timber. Mr. Beveridge has won distinction both as an author and an orator. Although possibly not a match for John Sharp Williams in scholarship, he is considered one of the most intellectual men who have set in the United States Senate in recent times.

Perhaps it was more a case of Indiana republicans preferring Beveridge to New than a desire to show their disapproval of the Harding administration, but the result will cause grave uneasiness to other republican senators who will try to retain their seats this year and have been hoping that the administration's record would be a help to their candidacy rather than a handicap.—Age-Herald.

WOMEN IN JOURNALISM AND POLITICS.

Women are just now entering the political field, and they are everywhere making the same success in this new field of endeavor as in all others in which they have entered in the past.

In journalism she has won honors, high honors, and this field requires many gifts that even few men possess. One has not only to be gifted as a writer, be well informed on past history and current affairs, but have ideas and ideals, and a deep sense of the proprieties, what to write, when to write it, and how to express it, that will not have the very opposite effect intended. They are few men in the profession, recognize that the foundation of journalism is sincerity, is honesty, is steadfastness to principle. They are sincere. They are honest. They assume an attitude toward truth, consciously or unconsciously, that distinguishes the ethical from the unethical writer.

Here in Alabama there are many women connected with the press, not only as society editors, but in various departments of the paper. The Journal has had several as reporters and they always did their work well and conscientiously. It has had them and still has them in other departments.

The Wetumpka Herald is edited and published by a woman, Miss Golsen, whose father before her was editor and publisher of the paper. He was a good editor, a strong writer; but the Herald under Miss Golsen's editorial and business management is really the best paper printed in Wetumpka in many years, if not the best newspaper ever printed in Elmore county. This is the opinion of one who has had occasion to know whereof he speaks. He has personally known every editor and publisher of the weekly newspapers published at Wetumpka—for nearly a half century, and as a home newspaper, the Herald today will not only compare favorably with any of them, but exceeds them. Of course Miss Golsen does not claim, nor would any one else, that she was as gifted with the pen as was William L. Yancey, who at one time edited a weekly paper at Wetumpka, but she does claim, or can claim, she is printing the best home paper the county ever had.

And now comes Editor Oscar M. Duggar, of the Andalusia Star, who has been visiting his old home in Tennessee, and tells about a woman journalist in his native state, who has achieved name and fame in her chosen profession, that of journalism, and in this connection the story will be found of peculiar interest as tending to carry out The Journal's contention as to woman whether in politics or in journalism, achieves success where men often fail.

"Greenville is particularly fortunate in having as editor and owner of her daily newspaper," says Editor Duggar, "Mrs. Edith O. Susong, who has made a record as a newspaper woman unexcelled in the whole country. She has been invited to address the press association of Georgia, has spoken before the Tri-State press association at Memphis, has addressed the national editorial association and in each instance has been proclaimed the peer of the best on the program. Her newspaper work while difficult is looked upon by her as merely an incident of the duties of each day and she manages the news and the advertising, and the job work and does society on occasion and maintains her youthful appearance and vivacity through it all."

This is indeed high, and no doubt, deserved praise of a Tennessee woman journalist; but she is but one of many that could be mentioned. And this is no new field for Alabama women. Many years ago, Mrs. Willis Brewer edited the Hayneville Examiner, and she not only retained the high place it had attained while Colonel Brewer edited it, but added to its popularity. She was a virile writer, and displayed as great a knowledge of history and of the classics as her distinguished husband.

Yes; the Journal welcomes women into politics, as it welcomed them in journalism. They honored the last; they will purify the atmosphere of the first.—Montgomery Journal.

The session of the J. O. U. A. M. of the state held here this week calls to mind the activities of this order in seeking to have the Bible in the public schools of the nation; restricting of immigration, and the further fact that the order has advocated the adoption of the free text book system for the public schools of the state, marks it as one of the progressive organizations of the day, seeking to have some of the most helpful means and methods for perpetuating the ideals for which the order stands, written into the organic law of the land. The order is one of the younger organizations of the state, but is making itself felt along the lines of progressiveness which mean much to the future citizenship. The sessions are being well attended, delegates from every lodge in the state being present, and the sessions are very busy ones indeed. The session came to an end with the deliberations Tuesday evening the delegates all departing for their homes, much pleased over the reception accorded them in Twin Cities.

There is much good accomplished by taking counsel. That of course depends upon whether the ones giving the counsel are interested in dead earnest in arriving at the correct solution. If they are, the right premise will in nearly every instance be found.

Halting, when endeavoring to put into practice well defined and matured ideas is nearly in every instance followed by disastrous results. One begins at once to lose confidence once this attitude is assumed.

Everywhere there are burden bearers. Most every day there comes the opportunity to those who pass among men to give some little lift on the road of life to such ones. Just a word of encouragement may mean much to them, and even this small contribution may make the burden lighter. It costs nothing to give; may mean much to the ones it is intended for.

The Genoa conference has resolved itself into an international tangle of very delicate questions, with new ones being injected therein each day, until now it looks like the prize puzzle of the times. Russian diplomats seem to hold the key to the situation just at this point in the deliberations.

If all our useless energy was turned into channels of righteous effort industriously pursued, we ourselves would be surprised at what it would be able to accomplish.

When the nations fall out, the profit grabbers begin to wear the smile that won't come off. It means death to one; dollars to the other.

Ambition for place and power has wrecked many a life and dragged nations down with it.

When the balancing unit of common sense is lacking, much meaningless phraseology is indulged in, and many things done which bear the label, folly.

GOOD SOAP FOR LESS THAN TWO CENTS A POUND

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or floating soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

The pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soapmaking on the label of every can of Merry War Lye—also many other recipes such as how to make lye hominy, how to soften water, how to make clothes washing easy, how to brighten cooking utensils, etc.

Merry War Powdered Lye is also a wonderful cleaner and purifier for use about the home, barn, chicken house and outhouses. Comes in a convenient can with revolving sifting top that cannot come off, cannot get lost, recloses tightly and preserves contents. It is economical to buy and easy to use.

Ask your dealer for Merry War Lye—be sure you get "Merry War"—the lye that has made good for 33 years.

MERRY WAR LYE
"Makes Mighty Good Soap"

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, May 4. — Just think of making three hundred different kinds of noises for a living! Isn't it a frightful sounding life? But a man who does it doesn't seem disturbed at all by his occupation. H. Manne is his name and he works in a little laboratory down in the orchestra pit of a local motion picture theater. Noises, inspiring, unearthly, and comic proceed from that corner. Drums that crack as the villains die from the pistol of the righteous hero; anvils clonking—oh, everything! Mr. Manne carries a full line of assorted noises. Hardly anything can happen that he can't supply the proper crash or whine for. Ranged about him and within arm-stretch of his chair, they hang or stand on the floor; whistles that cluck like ducks as well as whistles that shriek like banshees; a sounding box that clicks like a telegraph—as I said, everything that belongs to the world of noises in this noisy age of a noisy world. And he rejoices in the thought that in the epoch of realistic drama, there is nothing, no one quite so realistic in results as he.

The growth of the co-operative idea has never been better illustrated than in the recent movement of Commonwealth Chapters of the Commonwealth Club, which started here and is spreading all over the country. In Springfield, Mass., the Chapter has more than 200 members and is headed by George A. Bacon, a prominent lawyer there. Other cities through New England are forming Chapters and it is expected that there will be scores of them scattered all over the country before the end of the year. The Chapters are local units of the Commonwealth Club which is part of the Hotel Commonwealth now building here. The Chairman of each Chapter will be a delegate to attend all members of the Commonwealth Club in New York City, and at these meetings all questions of policy, such as the fixing of rates of the Hotel, will be decided. This hotel will have 2500 rooms and the most modern accommodations, including a complete equipment of radio telephone.

A performance of understudies! That is something new in the theatrical world. Through long sessions, hopeful understudies hang about the dressing rooms or the curtain's edge, cheerful in the thought that the leading woman may stumble on a crack in the floor and break her neck or that the leading men may be black-jacked just outside the stage entrance. But those things so rarely happen! The Shuberts have sympathetically decided to give the whole corps of understudies a chance at once and put them on in a single performance. It is a professional performance of "The Rose of Stamboul" to be given at the Century Theater, with the whole cast drawn from the understudies. Fancy having such a chance with an audience wholly composed of other actors and actresses to play for!

Most conspicuous in New York sporting stores today is the counter given over to fire-arms. The "general stores" in Western towns of the early days made no more a feature of them than do ours on the avenues. The statement at Police Headquarters the other day that more than 35,000 permits to carry pistols had been granted during the crime wave probably has considerable to do with it. The most interesting thing is the great proportion of customers in the pistol departments of the stores who are women. They usually insist upon a small pistol that can be carried comfortably in a handbag. So don't shove too violently against some delicate looking woman who happens to

The world loves a Cinderella. It's probably the most universal note in human nature. That is why the Brooklyn horse show had such an exceptionally successful day. Winona won the big sweepstakes, considered the event of the evening. Winona is a Cinderella. She was picked up on an auction block for a few dollars by some discerning person and bloomed out into a beauty.

The Flame Queen came to New York recently, but was deported unseen. The Flame Queen is not a new dancer but one of the most beautiful and largest opera stars ever to light. It was found in Australia and was brought here by Kecey I. Newman, its owner, for exhibition purposes. As large as a hen's egg and of brilliant colors, it astounded the jewel experts at the Custom House—the only people who got a chance to see it. The officials decided that in spite of its art and educational value, it was still a jewel and could not be brought into this country without paying all the duty which would be demanded if it were to be sold here. So after costing its owner a small fortune in insurance it was taken home to Australia without adding one more heart pang to jewel-lovers here.

There will be a meeting of the Tennessee Valley Poultry Association to night at 7:30 in office of Judge W. T. Lowe at Court House. All poultry breeders and members are requested to be on hand.

DOCTOR ORDERED WOMAN OBEYED

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and is Now Well

Chicago, Illinois. "You surely gave women one good medicine when you put Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on the market. After I took baby I was run down and so nervous it kept me from gaining. My doctor did everything he could to build me up, then he ordered me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with his medicine and I am now a new woman. I have had three children and they are all Lydia E. Pinkham babies. I have recommended your medicine to several friends and they speak highly of it. You are certainly doing good work in this world."—Mrs. ADRIAN TOMSHECK, 10657 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

There is nothing very strange about the doctor directing Mrs. Tomscheck to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There are many physicians who do recommend it and highly appreciate its value.

Women who are nervous, run down, and suffering from women's ailments should give this well-known root and herb medicine a trial. Mrs. Tomscheck's experience should guide you towards health.

Why Be "Skinny"

When It's so EASY to Build Flesh this New Way

Do you need more flesh? Are you pale, lacking in energy—or is your complexion blemished by humiliating pimples, blackheads, or boils? If so, simply go to your drugist and get a package of IRONIZED YEAST tablets. Take these remarkably effective tablets—two with each meal. Then watch the results! Very likely you will be actually astonished at the improvement shown in you even after the first 48 hours. For IRONIZED YEAST embodies a remarkable new scientific process—a process which enables yeast to bring its splendid results often in just half the usual time.

The New Process
While yeast alone is good, tests show that it needs some other agent in order to quickly convert its wonderful health-building elements into firm tissue, rosy cheeks and sparkling vitality.

Everyone knows that iron is of great value in converting food into living cells and tissue. So working on this problem, our scientists finally discovered the wonderful process of ironization—the process through which the combination of yeast and iron becomes so efficient.

Do not think, however, that any combination of yeast and iron will do. Yeast brings its best and quickest results only when it is treated through the scientific process of ironization. And this process is embodied only in IRONIZED YEAST, the most scientifically correct yeast treatment.

Money Back Guarantee
Get IRONIZED YEAST from your drugist today. Satisfactory results from first package or money refunded, $1.00 a package. Beware of inferior imitations.

FREE While IRONIZED YEAST is sold in all drug stores, on our Satisfaction Guaranteed basis, those who wish may try it absolutely FREE. Simply mail the coupon. It will bring you the famous Three Day Trial Treatment. Watch the results!

ROWDEN O'BRYANT
At the home of the bride at noon on Wednesday, Miss Katherine O'Bryant and Mr. Paul Rowden were quietly married in the presence of a few friends and relatives, Miss Margaret Frahn was the only attendant of the bride and Mr. Charles O'Bryant was the best man to the groom.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. McDonald and the wedding ceremony was performed by Father Sheridan. Miss O'Bryant was beautifully attired in a blue suit with grey accessories. Miss Frahn was attractive in blue canton cape trimmed in grey with grey hat and slippers. After a very informal reception, when ices, cake and mints were served the guests, the happy couple left for New Orleans for a short visit.

Mr. Rowden is an employee of the Southern Railroad Co. at the freight office in Decatur and Mrs. Rowden was a very popular young girl of Albany, having made her home here for several years.

BROWNE-CRANE
Mrs. Annie E. Crane announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Alice, to Mr. Ralph W. Brown, the wedding to take place the first day of June in the First Presbyterian church, Little Rock, Ark.

The foregoing will be of much interest to the many friends of the bride-to-be here, Miss Crane being one of the Twin City's most popular young women.

Mr. Brown is a chemist for the American Bauxite company at Bauxite, Ark. His home is in Baltimore.

COTTON MARKET

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, May 4. — The cotton market opened active and unsettled today, August, showing an increase of eight points while other points were unchanged to six points lower. Private advices reported rain in the belt, but the forecast indicated clearing conditions which caused profit taking by commission houses. Later the list was a little firmer, advancing about 5 points over initial levels.

THE WAY TO FREEDOM.—Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.—John 8: 32.

"Not a crack nor pinhole in it!"

Go to your windows now and examine the shades.

See if they are specked with those tiny holes and little ragged cracks that do so much to mar the looks of your windows. In you will find this great fault of the ordinary shade overcome. It is made of a closely woven cloth without the filling of chalk which in the ordinary shade soon cracks and falls out in unsightly streaks and pinholes. Sun won't fade it—nor water spot it. Made in many rich, interesting tones and in Brenlin Duplex. Come see it.

MEMORIAL TO EARLY EXPLORER TAKES FORM OF PRIMITIVE FORT

"KOOTENAY HOUSE," RESTORED HUDSON BAY POST AT INVERMERE PT. ON LAKE WINDERMERE, B. C.

Visitors to the tourist region about Lake Windermere in southern British Columbia, will find a reminder there of early days. The Hudsons Bay Company is building a replica of their first post in this region. It was known as "Kootenay House" and was built by the intrepid astronomer and explorer, David Thompson, in 1806 on the shore of lovely Lake Windermere.

David Thompson, a pupil at Blue Coat School in London, was released to the Hudson Bay Company for the sum of five pounds sterling. The company sent him to Canada where he was outfitted and sent up the Hayes River with a party. In 1795 he with three companions, two of them Indians, made their way from Hudsons Bay to Lake Athabasca. On his return to York Fort he was informed that the company would make no more explorations and that he was out of a job. He did not allow this to discourage him but set off immediately with two Indians for Grand Portage where he obtained an appointment as astronomer for the North West Company whose headquarters were at that point.

As astronomer he visited the company's various posts and while in the Lake-of-the-Woods region in Manitoba, located the source of the Mississippi River. Many years were spent in surveying the western wilds, travelling by dog team and canoe. The winter of 1807-08 was spent at Kootenay House with his "little family," as his Indian wife and children were termed. In October 1810 he set out to trace the Columbia River from its source to its mouth and was the first white man to do this, arriving at what is now Astoria, Oregon, in July 1811. The trip was accomplished despite great perils. Thompson died at the age of 37, poor and unappreciated. Posterity had recognized his debt to this brave man whose sixteen years of a man who has achieved an enviable reputation—Herbert Brenon.

PEARL WHITE COMING 6 6
Delite Friday

The penalty which follows surrender, by a well-loved wife, to an unwarranted discontent with her lot as lacking in excitement, is said to be eloquently set forth in "Any Wife," a William Fox picture in which the popular Pearl White will come to the Delite Theater on Friday. The moral of the story, from the pen of Julia Tolson, is obvious; but the incidents attending its development are described as intensely dramatic, and its conclusion—a happy one, by the way—involves not only a genuine surprise, but clever comedy.

In the earlier scenes Miss White appears in a couple of gowns which are said to be "stunning"; and any one who has seen her richly dressed on the screen knows that she sets off such attire superbly.

The supporting company contains several actors well and favorably known. The picture was directed by

GRIFFITH'S NEW PRODUCTION

Princess today and Friday
"The Fall of Babylon," David Wark Griffith's magnificent spectacle, wherein more than 125,000 men and women appear, has been secured as the special featured attraction at the Princess Theater today and Friday.

Mr. Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation," and "Hearts of the World" have established this dramatic genius as America's foremost producer of unusual entertainment, and it is, therefore, not surprising to learn that in one scene in "The Fall of Babylon" Mr. Griffith shows four thousand revelers at a bacchanalian feast. Among the prominent players are Constance Talmadge, George Fawcett, Mildred Harris, Tully Marshall, Pauline Stark, Seena Owen, Alma Rubens, Kate Bruce, Alfred Paget, Elmo Lincoln, and others whose names are familiar to all nation picture patrons.

"THE STREAM OF LIFE"

What the Press has to say of Dr. Shield's famous story which comes to Delite Thursday.

Freeport Journal Standard, Freeport, Ill.

Aside from the story and deeply religious sentiment which at once places the picture in a category apart from the average film offering, "The Stream of Life" is wonderfully beautiful. Something of poetry enters into the rural settings, at times openly declared in captioned titles with excerpts from Tennyson's "The Brook," and later by fragments of "Crossing the Bar."

Rev. Ferdinand C. Iglehart, D. D., Christian Herald, New York City

Dr. Shield's moving picture story, "The Stream of Life," is so lofty in its intellectual conception, so beautiful in its artistic representation, so true to nature, so tender and sweet in sentiment, so clean is its morals, and healthful in its spiritual vigor, that it gripped literature, oratory, or any realm of men as few things have ever done in fine art.

"I wish to congratulate you upon producing such a splendid picture. It touches, in a beautiful way, the deep springs of human life and answers the yearnings of the soul, reaching out for immortality and for God. You have made an enduring contribution to filmdom."

Captain Richmond P. Hobson, Hero of the Merrimack.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am not very pretty. I am unattractive, therefore, the young men don't like me. I have stylish clothes that suit me, but they don't make me pretty or attractive. What do you think I could do to make myself attractive? Or don't you think I could? Do you think I can ever make the young men like me? My life is simply a barren waste before me.

HANGING IN THE BALANCE

Indeed, you can make yourself attractive, my dear. Many women who were not good-looking have overshadowed beauties on account of their charm. You can cultivate charm and sweetness and develop a personality which will win you many friends among young men.

Study and read. Make yourself informed on all the topics of the day and always be a good listener and you will never lack real friendship. Good luck to you!

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl. I have been going with a young man three years my senior. I love him very dearly, but can't trust him, for several of his friends have been telling me things about him. But he denies them.

We are engaged to be married soon. Do you think I should marry him and trust him, or should I quit him? I can't find out these things to be the truth, so what am I to do?

TRUST WORTHY.

TRUST WORTHY. You are not building your marriage on a very firm foundation, my dear. If you start at by suspecting your future husband of things which you cannot prove.

Why do you believe others before you believe him? You should have faith in the man you marry. If you can't trust him, don't marry him, but before you decide be fair with him and with your self, my dear.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am going with a young man, and have been going with him for about a year.

He has often told me that he thinks a lot of me, and has hinted about my marrying him, but I ignore all this, as I do not care for him in that way. Do you think it would be best to quit him or continue going with him until he does propose, as I hate to hurt his feelings in any way?

BLACK-EYED SUSAN.

BLACK-EYED SUSAN: Don't give up the friendship of this young man, but the next time he hints at marriage, can't you let him see that you do not care for him in any but a friendly way?

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her, in care of this office.

FARMER MEETINGS WELL ATTENDED

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 4.—With weather conditions generally favorable throughout the state, the county wide gatherings of farmers Tuesday to consider the co-operative marketing of cotton on the pool plan, were well attended, according to reports reaching the State Farm Bureau office.

During the day, J. A. Evans, of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, addressed the farmers and business men at Roanoke; Dr. Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer, Raleigh, N. C., spoke at Center in Cherokee County; F. R. Shanks spoke at Union Springs and Seale; W. C. Lasseter, editor of The Progressive Farmer, Birmingham, at Double Springs and Haleyville; Dr. Tait Butler, editor of The Progressive Farmer, Memphis, Tenn., at Florence and Tusculum; Dr. W. E. Hinds, Auburn, at Evergreen; Walton Petet at Elba and Enterprise; V. G. Thomas at Greensboro; J. D. Coghlan at Headland and Abbeville; and Ray C. Bishop at Chatom in Washington County.

The great need for the establishment of a more profitable marketing system for the cotton produced by the farmers of Alabama was explained, and urged by each speaker and at the conclusion of most of the meetings several farmers signed the contract placing their cotton in the giant marketing pool now being formed all over Alabama.

Meetings will be held in other counties during the remainder of the week.

TURKISH WOMEN TRY TO REFORM MERE MAN

(International News Service)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 4.—Since they have had a touch and a sight of Paris and particularly of dances and dances, Turkish women are making attempts to reform their male masters and are threatening to discard the traditional veil. Many have already done so, causing the chief of police to issue an edict proclaiming that women dancing in public "disgrace the Europeans" are liable to prosecution.

The younger generation of Turkish women have "dared" to introduce fox trots, rumbas and waltzes in the city, "shocking" their elders.

Turkish women's clubs are springing up everywhere, and tea dances, dinner dances and similar amusements have been introduced in all classes. In many homes veils have been done away with, and pretty parisian evening dresses and walking-out costumes have replaced Turkish draperies. One club has hired rooms for dancing where only competent Europeans are allowed entry.

This is considered a serious offense, and the population is astir as to what will happen to the "guilty ones" when the chief of police carries out his threat to prosecute.

3000 FRENCHMEN DIED IN WAR FROM OWN GUNS

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 3.—"Because of a false conception of offensive principles, by lack of liaison between artillery and infantry and by the irrational use of heavy artillery 75,000 Frenchmen were killed in the war by their own artillery." This is the astounding revelation made by General Etienne Percin, once commander of a French army corps, in his latest book "The Massacre of Our Infantry."

Referring to the cost of munitions in the war and in order to give what he calls an example of the waste shown during battles General Percin remarks: "As a result of waste of ammunition from August 2, 1914, to November 11, 1918, we spent 26,000,000,000 francs in munitions, or one-seventh of our total war expenses."

Co-operation Necessity of Today.

Some one once said: "Half the people know not how the other half lives." This is truer today than ever. There is need of knowledge that will give co-operation. People cannot longer live unto themselves alone if the country prosper as it should.
